Christian J. Henrich is a Senior Partner in Damon Morey where he is the Co-Chair of the Business and Corporate Department and Chair of the firm's Private Equity Practice Group.

Mr. Henrich advises both issuers and investors in a variety of private equity, merger and acquisitions transactions. He has assisted numerous companies raise capital through private offerings and private equity transactions. His issuer work is balanced by his representation of several private equity funds. Mr. Henrich regularly prepares software licensing agreements and counsels technology clients on cyber law and e-commerce matters. Clients find that his finance degree from the Wharton School and experience as the Chief Operating Officer of a software company results in a multi-disciplinary approach to generating creative and practical solutions for their problems.

In addition to his transaction-focused, technology and entrepreneurial clients, Mr. Henrich serves as general counsel for a Philadelphia-based not-for-profit organization with global operations in Europe, India, China, and Japan. His work on behalf of that organization consists of counseling on corporate governance matters, negotiating license agreements, and advising the organization's Executive Director.

Mr. Henrich served as an infantry officer in the United States Army, resigning his commission as a Captain in 1995. His appointments in the military included serving as a general's aide to the Commander of the Joint Readiness Training Center and serving as the second-in-command of an Airborne Ranger Company.

Mr. Henrich is admitted to practice in both New York and Delaware and is currently a member of the New York State Bar Association, the Delaware Bar Association, the Erie County Bar Association and the Wharton Club of Northern California.

Additionally, Mr. Henrich is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Heart Association of Western New York and a Cub Scout den leader.
